

BIG BOND ISSUE CONFRONTS CITY

About One Million Needed to Put Finances in Good Shape

IS UNDER CONSIDERATION

GENERAL AND SPECIAL FUNDS MUST BE REPLENISHED.

The people of Salt Lake will probably be asked by the administration to vote another bond issue in order to relieve the financial stringency which confronts the city. This proposal was discussed at a meeting of the council finance committee held yesterday afternoon in Mayor Bransford's office.

The condition of the city treasury is serious, and not even the most optimistic councilman will deny it. Although the city has received since tax collections began about $300,000, one-half its share of the total, some of the general expense funds are still overdrawn, and by Jan. 1 it is expected that the city will be at least $100,000 in the red. In addition to this the water and sewer bond funds have been exhausted, and this will entail an additional expense of $100,000 to $125,000 in order that the contractors may be paid.

Only $5,000 Remains.

The matter was brought forcibly to the attention of the finance committee at the council meeting last Monday evening, when it was discovered that the water bond fund has only $5,000 left in it, with claims from P. J. Moran of approximately $60,000 to satisfy. How this money is to be raised is the problem.

The same is true of the sewer bond fund, and when the intercepting sewer and pumping station are completed that fund will have been overdrawn by nearly $50,000.

On Jan. 2, 1905, the people voted $500,000 in water bonds and $150,000 in sewer bonds to be used for improving the water system and building the intercepting sewer. Of the $500,000 all but about $150,000 has gone to P. J. Moran for the conduit and the new water supply mains. The remainder has been paid out for the improvement of the intercepting sewer. The sewer bond fund was not enough for the purpose for which it was issued in the first place, and hence another complication arises, as some of the money from the water bond fund has been tacitly used to pay for the sewer. The committee must straighten out this difference in some way so that the accounts for both funds will balance.

Must Issue More Bonds.

The only way to solve the difficulty is to issue more bonds, as the general expense funds will not stand the drain of this additional overdraw. It is proposed to make the issue either $750,000 or $1,000,000. Although the latter figure would bring the bonded indebtedness up to $4,750,000, while the limit is 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of $4,700,000. The bonded indebtedness is now $3,738,000.

These bonds would be issued for the alleged purpose of completing the water and sewer systems and relieving the general expense funds from some of the burden in paying for the city's share of all public improvements. The proposition to establish reservoirs at the head of Big Cottonwood creek and thus conserve the water supply for use during the winter and spring months was the forerunner of the scheme. The application for the use of the lakes at the head of the creek was filed with the state engineer Tuesday. In order to perfect this system it will take at least $500,000. The other $500,000, if the issue can be made $1,000,000, will be used to pay the overdraft of $125,000 in the present bond issue and to relieve the city expense funds as indicated.

It is thought by the members of the finance committee that the people on these grounds can be induced to vote the bonds, as no difficulty was experienced three years ago.

That some method of raising money must be secured is apparent to even the "American" councilmen.

There was an extra touch of melody in the voice of the young tenor who sang the Heidelberg solo at the Orpheum last night, and indeed the whole of the Tivoli quartet seemed to share in the joy of the tenor with his song. The added charm was due to the fact that the second tenor, A. N. Mellor, had left his bachelor days behind him at 10 o'clock, when Miss Arista K. Swan, of Santa Cruz, became Mrs. Mellor.

The wedding, which was to have taken place one day earlier, was delayed by a wreck on the Southern Pacific, and the bride, accompanied by her brother, arrived at 9 o'clock yesterday. The three, with the addition of Miss Frances, made their way directly to St. Paul's church, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Perkins. No demonstration followed the event immediately, but after the show was over last evening the other

DEMENTED MAN WANDERS ABOUT SEARCHING FOR HIS DEAD SON

After wandering about the country for five months in a demented condition, William Hollenshead, a building contractor of Pasco, Wash., was taken into custody at the Imperial hotel in Murray last night by Deputy Sheriff Steele. Hollenshead was not able to tell much about himself, but he had in his possession a letter addressed to "Any Officer of the Law," which gave his name and former place of residence.

This letter was written on Nov. 23 by L. D. Goody, who explained that he had met Hollenshead and recognized him, but had been unable to do anything for him. Goody apologized for allowing the demented man to wander away from him by saying that he was a poor working man and that the best he could do was to scrawl the letter, hoping that it would fall into the hands of some officer of the law who would take care of Hollenshead.

Goody stated that Hollenshead's wife lived at Walsburg and that he had relatives in Ritzville, Wash. He added that Hollenshead's son died about five months ago, and that the contractor, cherishing the illusion that the boy was lost and not dead, was wandering about in search of him. Goody said that Hollenshead's relatives had been informed of the boy's death.

When Hollenshead wandered into Murray yesterday night he was a poor working man. He exhibited Goody's letter, however, and the authorities were notified.

There is considerable speculation concerning Goody. It is not understood why the man gave the letter to Hollenshead instead of calling upon the nearest police officer to take charge of the demented man. Sheriff Emery will today make an effort to find Hollenshead's relatives.

BERT FULLER AND FAIR PARTNER WIN SPEED CONTEST AT CHAUFFEUR'S BALL

Things went with a whirl at the chauffeurs' dance in the New Dancing academy at 66 Market street last night. The event of the evening was a two-step race, which was as exciting as a stunt by scorching automobiles. There were three heats in the race, and each heat was worth seeing. There were six entries for the first heat, as follows: Bert Fuller and Mrs. Leonard S. Moore, J. P. Olson and Miss Sibils, Mrs. Mack, J. Flower and Miss Angell, Roy Shores and Miss Daniel. Mr. Fuller and Mrs. Moore won this heat. It was fast, but there were no accidents.

The second heat was danced by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kaar, E. V. Burrier and Miss Eaker, Frank Greening and Miss Williams, Carl Redman and Miss Lillib Redman, L. Mink and Miss Delmar. In this whirlwind heat Carl Redman and Miss Williams were winners. There were several mishaps during the heat. Harry Kaar, who is known as the smallest chauffeur in Salt Lake, and E. V. Burrier, fell in taking the hurdles and were compelled to retire from the competition.

The final heat was danced by Bert Fuller and Mrs. Moore and Carl Redman and Miss Redman. It was nip and tuck until the home stretch was reached, and then Redman and Miss Redman were disqualified.

Mr. Fuller and Mrs. Moore were declared victorious. The committee in charge of the dance was composed of Messrs. Fuller, Redman and Jack McCooey.

KNOX NOW "FAVORITE SON" Pennsylvanians in Washington Launch a Little Boomlet in Troubled Political Waters.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The boom of Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania for the presidency was formally launched when the Pennsylvania Republican congressional delegation placed itself squarely on record in favor of the Pennsylvania senator as President Roosevelt's successor. The occasion was a dinner given by former Representative Joseph C. Sibley of Pennsylvania to the Pennsylvania delegation in congress. Representative Burke of Pennsylvania was the first speaker and his remarks evoked frequent applause. Mr. Burke reviewed Senator Knox's public career and pointed out how intimately he was identified with and responsible for the success of many of the great policies that have aided in making the administration of President Roosevelt notable. He also read a number of letters written by the president, warmly commending Mr. Knox for the part he played in the enforcement of the anti-trust laws. At the conclusion of Mr. Burke's speech Representative Dalzell of the Pennsylvania delegation made a motion that he declared the sense of the delegation that Mr. Knox should be nominated president, which was carried with cheers.

SECOND VICTIM SUCCEUMBS TIME FOR CHEAPER COAL

After a Brave Struggle Dave Tobin Dies of Burns Received in Explosion.

Like his comrade, Tom Duggan, Dave Tobin was too badly burned in the Caliente powder explosion to recover from his injuries. He died yesterday morning at the Holy Cross hospital. His body will be sent back to Caliente for burial. It is not known what disposition will be made of the remains of Duggan. It is understood that his mother lives at Bradford, Conn., but no replies have been received to the messages sent to her. Tobin and Duggan were employed on a steam shovel in railroad work at Caliente, and both were terribly burned when a quantity of blasting powder was accidentally set off last week.

Duggan, in the torment caused by the burns, pleaded during the hours of suffering preceding his death for some one to end his misery.

Tobin, on the other hand, wished to live, and endured the torture of his injuries with remarkable fortitude.
